2. For most people, perhaps what appears to be a simple document request would not be a major undertaking. Today I went to my storage location to assess the situation. In a quick count of boxes I could see stacked high in the narrow area, I came up with over 50 boxes. There are 9 boxes in my apartment "coat" closet. There are 12 boxes stacked in a corner of my dining room area. As I am typing on my notebook computer on my supposedly dining table, there are 11 more boxes of paperwork lined up in my kitchen. These had to be moved temporarily from the dining room/living room area in order to vacuum. There are 15 boxes in a bedroom closet area. There are 10 or so boxes jammed in an outside storage closet (approximate without taking them out). This totals 107 boxes without counting any boxes possibly stored at my parents' home. Therefore, my previous estimate given of boxes to search through was (unintentionally) extremely low. This now makes a search burden even more of a hardship. 2/ The fact remains that the requested documents could be obtained from the Commission files because they are all FCC related.

2/ Taking boxes from my apartment to try and jam into storage has not been a priority due to the aforementioned demands on my

3. According to the Prehearing Conference Order at paragraph 5:

"Where documents that are responsive to a document request are on file with the Commission, such documents need only be identified by a responding party. Although copies of such documents need not be furnished, parties are encouraged to furnish copies if the request is reasonable." [emphasis added]

If the request were reasonable, I could comply but under the circumstances, I must again ask for relief due to the now apparent even more overwhelming tasks in light of remember, I had dumped 20 or 25 boxes (at least) of paperwork from that non-revenue producing use of my time. See EXHIBIT 1.

5. It does not require a brain surgeon to realize that the existing comparative processes, for myself as a white man, have necessitated trying over and over and over again to not only create an broadcast opportunity in which to apply for, but to diligently work to try and help see the unfair rules changed. My reward for ten (10) years of overwhelming effort and the related public contributions is quite evident. "0". Because of the discriminations and multitude of various "sham" applications filed by others in the past years, I politely resent even the implication that I have done something wrong, and continue to believe the supplementary document production request is for harrassment purposes only because of my status as a self-employed person with substantial civic interests. 3/

6. I still believe the real purpose for requesting the documents is harassment. For the record, I will state herein that I have never filed a rulemaking petition or actual application for any community in which I did not have an interest or willingness to move there in order to effectuate any integration proposal. In January of 1990 I gave serious consideration to moving to Windsor as the place to "dig in" if I had to choose one. Had I done so, I would now have still experienced the long arm of "Reverse Discrimination" being administratively inserted because of Metro Broadcasting.

7. A Request For Permission To File and Motion For Summary Decision is being tendered concurrently herewith since it is most obvious I don't have a snowball's chance in Hades of now prevailing in this forum. In conjunction therewith, I ask again for document search relief since this particular ballgame is over pursuant to existing comparative policy from which the Presiding Officer said there will be no deviation.
